How important is it for websites to offer a diverse range of content, including text, images, videos, and podcasts?

What type of content do you most frequently seek on websites?

Ideas

Content Diversity

Young adults seeks engaging online experience. Over 50% emphasize the importance of diverse content, indicating a preference for less text-heavy interfaces.

This points towards a preference for multimedia that entertains and fosters connections with the outside world.

Youth Profiles

Steer away from emphasis on control and more on benefits to general user.

This could be through highlights of youth profiles and how they tailored MCF features to their needs.
